Agribusiness 2020

New Horizons for the UK Agri-food supply chain ?

Agribusiness 2020, THE conference dedicated to the UK's agrisupply businesses takes place as the UK enters new worlds. For the first time in over a generation the UK will see the publication of an Agriculture Bill and an Environment Bill. New payment schemes will begin to use public money for public goods. And, the industry has a role to play in achieving net zero emissions.

Despite on-going Brexit uncertainty, the whole Agri-food supply chain is being challenged to raise productivity while enhancing the environment and increasing sustainability. Our line-up of speakers will provide their perspectives on how best the industry can respond as it plans the future. We have asked for a focus on the opportunities that tomorrow will bring.

The breadth of our speaker line-up will ensure there will be something for everyone. From policy to finance; from innovative diets to unlocking genetic benefits there is much to be gained from taking a day to join us.

You can join us for an informative day that also offers networking opportunities with AIC Members, policy makers and other stakeholders engaged with agrisupply.

Look forward to welcoming you to Peterborough in November.

John Kelley

Agribusiness is an excellent way of understanding some of the different challenges agribusiness face and how to overcome them. It is both intellectually stimulating and enjoyable - a good use of time.

Stephen Jacob BASIS
The insights I have gained from Agribusiness far exceed any other conference I have attended to date. Wonderful, insightful and well presented!

The 'must-attend' event for the agri supply industry

Keith Millar FSA
I always enjoy attending and participating in Agribusiness. The quality of speakers, presentations and excellent networking opportunities always justify the time and effort devoted.

Belinda Clarke AgriTech, East
An interesting conference with a variety of high profile speakers which last year provided great networking opportunities.
